

HIGH ROAD LEADERSHIP

with Dr. John C. Maxwell

THE URGENCY FOR IMPACT

- Personal evangelism is the fire behind John Maxwell and his teaching.
- When people learn and live good values, they themselves become more valuable.

"You don't coast to the high road. You coast to the low road." - John C. Maxwell

HIGH ROAD LEADERSHIP

- Everyone deserves to be led well.
- Being a high-road leader is essential and requires intentionality and personal growth.
- As Christians, we are supposed to be making people "hungry, not angry."
- The Christian community needs to focus on living out Christian values and being salt and light in a divided world.

"Everyone deserves to be led well." - John C. Maxwell

- In an election year, Christians should be hyper-aware of how they behave and how they represent Jesus to the world.
- Leaders should have an inner circle that can provide feedback and hold them accountable.
- It's important to recognize when we veer off the high road and take steps to get back on track. Have an "inner circle" that can lead you back to the high road.
- Jesus was the ultimate high-road leader, and as Christians, we need to do what Jesus did and live as he lived.

"I don't expect us to all be perfect high road leaders, but I do expect us all to want to be one." - John C. Maxwell

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS:

Keep growing to reach your full potential by asking yourself and your team these questions:

THE URGENCY FOR IMPACT

1. Discuss your favorite values that you hold as a leader. Who is someone in leadership that you admire for their values. Who is someone who has greatly impacted your personal value?

2. What is the “fire” behind your leadership?

3. What is one area of your life that you could create less division and create more value?

HIGH ROAD LEADERSHIP

1. Who in your life is in your “inner circle” and is able to tell you when you are drifting from the high road?

- 2. Are you a transactional leader or a relational leader? If we were to ask the people that you lead if you were a high road leader, what would they say?

- 3. What is one area of your life that you need to live more like Jesus did?
